Deepen your knowledge and broaden your perspective.

Osgoode's Professional LLM in Tax Law gives you the chance to step away from the daily grind to think critically about what you know and how you can build on it. Take the time to learn, develop your expertise and enrich your career.

“Osgoode's LLM in Tax Law has helped increase the value of my practice by augmenting the quality and depth of the advice I can provide to my clients. It was also a valuable opportunity to explore practical problems academically with some of the greatest legal minds in Canada, and helped me to better understand the issues that shape and influence the law.”

Aaron Grinhaus, LLB, JD, LLM
Lawyer, Grinhaus Law Firm

“This program has raised the bar for my future academic endeavours. Osgoode's LLM in Tax Law was an exciting and challenging program which developed my understanding and knowledge of tax law beyond my expectations. The faculty and staff were incredibly helpful, professional, and generous with their assistance.”

Program Features

No prior law degree required

Open to candidates with a JD/LLB and to professionals with a university degree, superior academic record and work experience related to tax.

Top-notch instruction

Get access to some of the leading minds in tax law and policies, and leverage their experiences to help your growth.

No thesis

Get an academic experience through coursework that deepens your knowledge, and is tailored to the working professional. If you want to complete a major research paper, you have that option.

Flexible and convenient

Choose to complete the program part-time (in two years), or through full-time studies (one year). You'll take courses in a combination of weekly and intensive formats to minimize your time away from other commitments.

Build your network

Study and build relationships with professionals from across Canada and around the globe. These are your future friends, clients and colleagues.

Accessible from anywhere

Videoconferencing is available for most courses although occasional attendance in person in Toronto is required (refer to website for details on each course).

Program Format & Duration

Part-time Studies | Courses are offered in a combination of intensive format (typically three to five consecutive days including one Saturday) and weekly evening format. Videoconferencing is available for most courses, although occasional in-person attendance in Toronto is required. The program will generally require 6 terms (24 months).

Full-time Studies | Students take a combination of tax courses from the part-time Professional LLM in Tax Law, the LLM in International Business Law, and upper year JD courses at Osgoode Hall Law School. Elective course options change each academic year. The program will generally require 3 terms (12 months).

Part- and Full-time | Students are required to complete 36 credits obtained through coursework and a Major Research Paper, or coursework only.

You won't have to commit to a thesis, but your progress and performance will be evaluated through papers, presentations and take-home assignments. Each LLM incorporates a research requirement, which is typically evaluated on the basis of one or more papers.

Required Course

Tax Policy, Statutory Interpretation and the Foundations of the Taxation of Individuals [6 credits]

This course deals with the various theories of tax interpretation and styles of tax analysis and then covers: (1) The basic principles, theories, and tools of analysis needed for discussion of tax policy and planning issues; (2) Recent theories of statutory interpretation and trends in the judicial interpretation of tax laws. The need for, and problems with, implementing anti-avoidance rules are examined; and (3) An exploration of changing conceptions of the deep structure that underlies the income tax system.

Sample of Elective Courses

Tax Administration and Litigation [3 credits]

The structure of the Canadian tax system and the theoretical and practical issues that arise in its administration are covered; the role of the Department of Finance, administration of the Income Tax Act by the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA), civil and criminal sanctions, methods of proof, CRA prosecution policies, investigative techniques, processing procedures, search warrants, Charter rights and lawyer-client privilege, defending criminal prosecutions, tax court practice, and issues in international tax enforcement.

Taxation of Financial Instruments [3 credits]

This course scrutinizes the current Canadian law and the basic policies relating to the taxation of financial instruments including all forms of derivative instruments. It compares the Canadian law in this developing area to the experience in other jurisdictions, in particular, the United States, Australia and New Zealand.

Taxation of Corporate Reorganizations [3 credits]

Topics covered include transfer of property to a corporation, reorganizations into corporate form, reorganizations of the capital of a corporation, transfers of property out of a corporation, the termination of the existence of a corporation and migrations of corporations into and out of Canada. The in-depth, applied approach reviewed in the course will enable practitioners involved in tax planning to research and apply the tax law and requirements applicable to corporate reorganizations.

Complete descriptions for the following courses are available on our website.

- The Taxation of Trusts and Estates [3 credits]
- Advanced Taxation of Corporations and Shareholders [6 credits]
