Why You Should Attend

The professional regulation and discipline of health care professionals is a complex area which challenges its constituents to be fully informed of the entire process – from start to finish.

Whether you are a lawyer working in the health care sector and specializing in professional discipline or a professional working at one of the health regulatory colleges or health professionals' unions, it is crucial that you have the skills, knowledge and insight needed in this highly specialized field.

This unique, intensive 5-day certificate program, taught by OsgoodePD's multi-disciplinary faculty, will explore the issues by providing perspectives from all parties involved in the process. This program was created to provide those working in the field with a comprehensive overview of the professional regulation and discipline of health care professionals. An expert and diverse faculty consisting of prosecutors, defence counsel, judges, regulators, College registrars and health care professionals will guide you through the maze and will enable you to have a full appreciation of the core issues in this field.

Key Benefits: What You Will Learn

- How the regulatory process works
- The rights and duties of the health regulatory colleges and its members during an investigation
- Tips on how to draft a strong and comprehensive investigation report
- Strategies for dealing with various pre-hearing procedures, including motions and pre-hearing conferences
- How to draft a strong and comprehensive response to a public complaints committee
- Insight into selecting and training members of a complaints committee
- How to prepare and participate in Fitness to Practice proceedings and hearings
- Best practices and advocacy tips for prosecuting before a discipline committee as well as defending a member before a discipline committee
- The role of the independent legal counsel
- The role of the prosecutor, defence counsel and independent counsel in the drafting of reasons
- When to engage in alternative dispute resolution and mediation
- How to negotiate reasonable penalties
- How to draft an effective penalty order

Who Should Attend

- Lawyers who represent/prosecute regulated health professionals
- Regulators & Adjudicators
- Members of Complaint Committees
- Members of Discipline Committees
- Investigation Officers and Professionals
- Union Officials and Representatives (Labour Relations Officers, Professional Advocacy Officers)
- Staff at Regulatory Health Colleges

Across five intensive, one-day modules, the essential elements of the professional regulation and discipline of the health care sector will be delivered by a multi-disciplinary faculty with years of experience in a variety of workplaces. Classes are taught using a blended-delivery method that includes lectures, case studies and class discussions.
