Recent Webinars Explore the Latest in Taxation Policy

This year marked not only the 30th anniversary of Osgoode Professional Development’s Professional LLM in Taxation Law, but also the inauguration of a series of timely seminars for the tax community hosted by the faculty. The efforts of co-directors Prof. Jinyan Li and John Tobin over this past year are quickly establishing OsgoodePD as a leading venue for discussion and debate of tax law in Canada. Even 30 years in, the LLM in Taxation Law is still growing, innovating, and reaching out to new audiences. Read more

“Evidence is the cornerstone of litigation, so we hit it from every angle”

From the outset, Jacqueline King has been a mainstay of OsgoodePD’s annual Civil Litigator’s Survival Guide to Evidence program, now in its 18th year, which takes place over two half days, boosting attendees’ fundamental evidentiary principles and strategies while keeping them up to date on the field’s constantly evolving law and best practices. “My goal is to give you something that you can implement immediately. We want lawyers walking away, having learned something that will change the way they work and improve the effectiveness of their practice,” King says. Read more

A law school experience designed for working professionals

The part-time Graduate Diploma in Foundations of Canadian Law, which launched in the fall of 2023, is designed for working professionals without formal legal training to gain a firm grounding in the basic principles underlying public and private law in Canada. Meghan Thomas, OsgoodePD’s Director of Professional Graduate & International Programs says the new part-time graduate diploma will give early-career professionals the Motion Advocacy: Guidance from the Bench (1h13m)

The Osgoode Certificate in Family Skills and Practice immerses students in the key stages of a family law file. In this dynamic panel lead by Program Director Julie Hannaford, senior family law judges and arbitrators share their candid advice on what they want (and don’t want) to see and hear from counsel bringing Family Law motions.
